Good day!

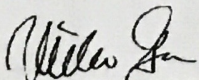

Travelling is often about trying the unusual and attempting to experience a different culture in the place we are visiting and one of the best ways to do is to try the local foods. We usually ask for the rare or expensive food that is considered highly desirable, sophisticated within a given culture. We call it delicacy as local preferences of which is in unusual characteristics. And we usually bring collections from where we visited. We call it "Pasalubong", the Filipino tradition of a homecoming gift.

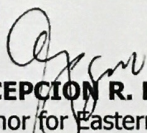

We have abundance of local products in the locality of Surigao del Norte, yet we look for a pervasive label of our products with a local preferences.
